SONS OF THE LEGION OPEN THEIR AUTUMN ACTIVITIES PROGRAM

Antioch Delegates to Attend County Unit Organization Meeting Oct. 14

The Antioch branch of the Sons of the American Legion has received an invitation to attend showings of the motion picture, "Sons of the Legion," at the Genesee theatre in Waukegan today, Friday and Saturday. Members attending are requested to wear their caps and have their membership cards. A nominal entrance charge of 10 cents will be made.

Members from here are planning to take part in the organization of a Lake county unit Oct. 14 at the American Legion home in Waukegan.

Chapters throughout the county have been asked to send delegates. Representing Antioch will be William Phillips, Orville Winfield and James Atwood. Other members from here will also be present.

Twenty-three sons of the Legion were present at the Antioch chapter's first meeting since the summer recess, on Wednesday evening of last week in the Legion hall here. Otto Klass, the new chairman, gave a talk on the carrying out of Legion work.

Flag Dedication

Fifteen of the "Sons" took part in the flag and flagpole dedication held by the Bean Hill school last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Hugo Gussarson, member of the school board in the Bean Hill district, was a speaker. Otto Klass, on behalf of the Sons of the Legion, gave a brief talk on "Patriotism and Americanism." Warren Edwards, the new commander of the Antioch American Legion, and Mrs. W. W. Ward, past president of the Legion auxiliary, attended.

Miss Evelyn Strang, teacher at the school, extended thanks on the part of the district for the part the Sons of the Legion squadron took in the ceremony.

E.A. AHLSTROM, FORMER COUNTY SHERIFF, DIES

Passes Away Suddenly at Veterans' Hospital in Hines, Aged 45

Coming as a shock to his hundreds of friends in Lake county was the death of Edwin A. Ahlstrom, Waukegan, former county sheriff, last Thursday morning at the U. S. Veterans' Facility hospital, Hines, Ill., two days after he had gone to the hospital for a general physical check-up.

Ahlstrom, who was 45, had not been feeling well and had suffered an attack of asthma Monday night. Even close friends did not know that he had entered the hospital however.

At the time of his death Ahlstrom was chief of the Johns-Manville police. He was a former Waukegan chief of police and in his younger days had been an athlete of considerable note in and around Waukegan.

He was born in Waukegan May 10, 1893, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ahlstrom, and received his education in the Waukegan schools.

He went into the electrical business as a young man, giving that up to serve as sheriff of Lake county from 1922 to 1926. In December, 1930, he was appointed chief of police in Waukegan.

In July, 1934, he took over the responsibility of guarding the Johns-Manville plant with a staff of 22 men, and his work there was considered outstanding.

Ahlstrom was married on June 2, 1917, to Miss Hazel Cole. He is survived by his wife and by three daughters, Mrs. Phyllis Lindquist, Los Angeles, Calif.; Barbara Ann and Marylyn Grace Ahlstrom, Waukegan; by two brothers, Harry and Carl Ahlstrom, Waukegan, and two sisters, Mrs. Edith Lindquist and Mrs. Doris Lutter, Waukegan.

The body lay in state at the American Legion home until Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when funeral services were held with the Rev. J. B. Martin conducting the rites. A military service was conducted by the Legion at the graveside in Warren cemetery.

Harvest Sugar Beets

Kenosha and Racine county farmers in the region near Burlington, Wis., are busy these weeks harvesting a large crop of sugar beets. The beets will be shipped to a sugar factory at Janesville.

Newspaper Serves As Best Contact with Community

"Believing that a community's leading newspaper is the stranger's best initial contact with that community, I should be very glad to have you send me a late copy of your paper. I contemplate buying a farm in your county and feel that a copy of your periodical will give me first hand information of great value to me in getting my bearings in the venture I have in mind. I greatly appreciate your courtesy in this matter."

This letter is typical of many that come in the day's mail to the editor of the Antioch News, requesting information concerning the community.

It illustrates once again the manifold ways in which a newspaper can be an asset to the community, and the extent to which an editor is called upon to serve it.

Strangers in town invariably turn to the offices of the village's leading newspaper as their most accessible, friendly and efficient "information bureau."

In aiding these inquirers, the newspaper performs a double service—to both the stranger or prospective member of the community, and to the community itself.

No doubt the author of the above-quoted letter will become a good customer of Antioch News advertisers, and by performing for him the small service requested—which this paper will gladly do—the newspaper is adding one more name to the list of the community's friends.

ANTIOCH DELEGATES ATTEND CONFERENCE

Ninety-ninth Meth. Rock River Session Opens in Chicago This Week

The Rev. Warren C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, is attending the ninety-ninth session of the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which is meeting in Chicago this week. Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf is presiding. The conference opened Tuesday evening with a communion service and will close Sunday evening with the reading of the appointments for the coming year.

The Laymen's conference, composed of one delegate from each of the 316 pastoral charges, will meet in the Casino room of the Morrison Hotel at 8:45 on Friday morning. S. E. Pollock will represent Antioch. Five sessions of the United Conference—ministers and laymen—will meet during the week. The combined body of ministers and laymen is divided into six commissions: World Service, Citizenship, Institutions and City Missions, Evangelism, Education, and Local Church. Their meetings will be held Thursday morning; three at the LaSalle hotel and three at the Morrison hotel.

Among the nationally known speakers of the week are: Bishop Titus Lowe of the Portland (Ore.) area; Dr. Harris Franklin Rall, Garrett Biblical Institute; Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, secretary, Board of Foreign Missions; Dr. Albert W. Palmer, Chicago Theological seminary; and Dr. W. J. Davidson, of the Methodist Board of Education.

The conference sessions are all open to the public. "Should you chance to be in Chicago this week, you will do well to spend some time at 77 West Washington street," Rev. Henslee said.

This will be the last meeting of the conference under its present name. The Uniting conference, which officially completes the union of the three major Methodist bodies—Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal South, and Methodist Protestant—will meet April 26, 1939, in Kansas City, Mo. The united church will be known as the Methodist Church.

To Install Street Lamp at Cor. of Highways 173-59

The intersection of state highways 173 and 59, at the southern end of Antioch, will be brightened with a 250 watt street light, the village council decided at a meeting Tuesday evening in the village hall.

During the summer the village council has added two or three extra lamps to the street lighting system, including one at the corner of highway 173 and the railroad track.

The lamps are installed free of charge and the cost to the village is merely the small sum required for electricity.

"FEED WILD FOWL OR THEY'LL MOVE AWAY," IS WARNING

W. A. Austin, Conservation Authority, Addresses Rod and Gun Club

"Wild game and fowl must be fed and given shelter," William A. Austin, authority on the conservation of wild life, emphasized in talk which he gave at a meeting of the Antioch Rod and Gun club Monday evening in the Danish hall.

Ninety members were present. The club has now reached a membership of 200 in its climb toward the desired goal of 1,500.

Strangers in town invariably turn to the offices of the village's leading newspaper as their most accessible, friendly and efficient "information bureau."

In aiding these inquirers, the newspaper performs a double service—to both the stranger or prospective member of the community, and to the community itself.

No doubt the author of the above-quoted letter will become a good customer of Antioch News advertisers, and by performing for him the small service requested—which this paper will gladly do—the newspaper is adding one more name to the list of the community's friends.

Coach Childers Presides

Coach R. H. Childers, second vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of R. E. Mann, president, and B. R. Burke, first vice-president.

Motion pictures of wild life were shown in connection with Mr. Austin's talk on conservation.

Coffee and sandwiches were served during the "social period" which followed the program.

The rehabilitation of wild life refugees in the region of Antioch by starting new growths of wild rice and other food sources was discussed. It was pointed out that at Grass Lake and other places these natural sources of food for game have been destroyed by carp and through various other causes.

Plans for this work will be taken up more fully at later meetings.

Suggestions as to the various kinds of food he has tried out and found successful on his own 1,200 acre game refuge on Nippersink creek three miles south of Richmond were given by Mr. Austin in his talk.

He has planted various kinds of food there, and this has attracted game and migratory birds in great numbers, Mr. Austin said.

"If birds have no shelter or food in one place, they will move on to the next," the speaker, who was formerly with the State Department of Agriculture, and has had many years' experience in conservation work, pointed out. His talk was of great interest, and was heard with close attention by his audience.

Commends Local Work

Mr. Austin commended the efforts at providing food and shelter for wild fowl on the part of both the High School Conservation club and the Antioch Rod and Gun club.

The next meeting of the Rod and Gun club will be held some time early in November, before the start of the pheasant hunting season.

Mrs. E. V. Lux, Sister of Antioch Resident, Dies

Antioch friends of Mrs. Bertha Lux, Wadsworth, sister of Mrs. Charles Lux, Sr., of this city, learned with deep regret of her death yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at her home. Mrs. Lux, who was 75, had suffered from a heart ailment for several months.

Funeral services are to be held at the home in Wadsworth Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Millburn cemetery.

Mrs. Lux was born Dec. 5, 1862, in Mecklenburg, Germany. She was brought to Chicago by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Setler, at the age of two years. The family moved to Grass Lake prior to the Chicago fire.

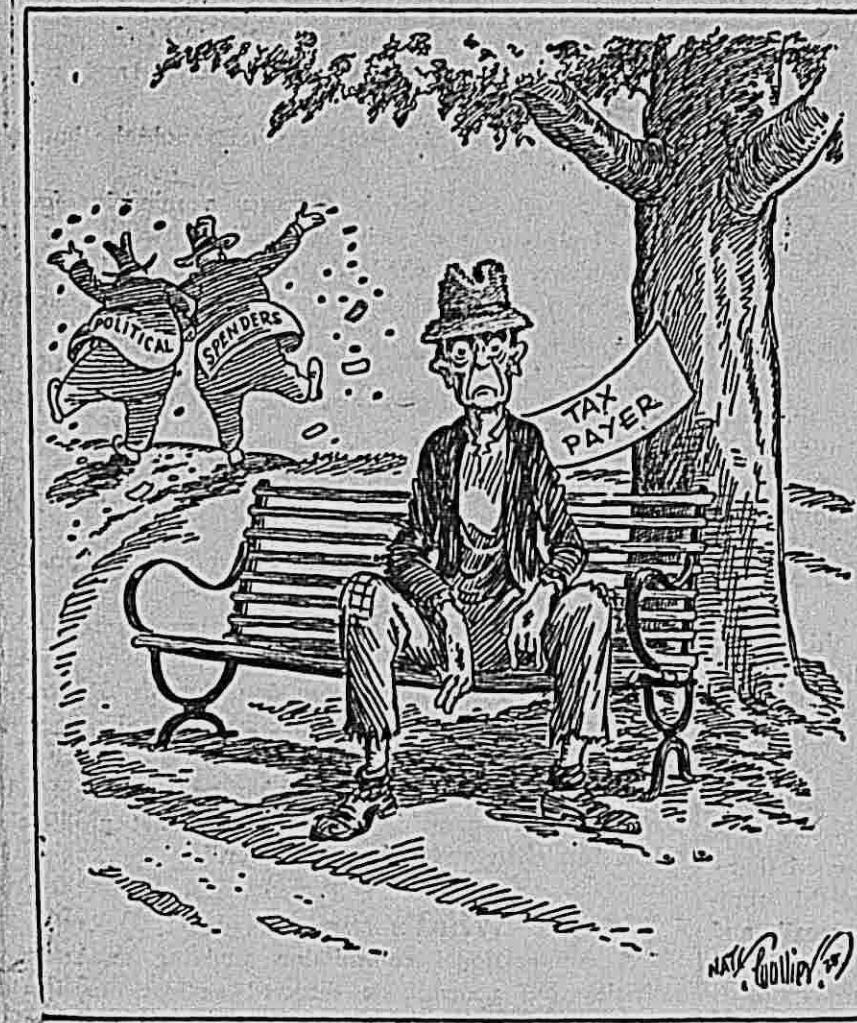

On Feb. 14, 1888, Bertha Setler became the bride of E. V. Lux, and they moved to Wadsworth, where they have since made their home. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last February.

Surviving besides her sister, Mrs. Charles Lux (who married a brother of E. V. Lux) are a daughter, Edna Doyle of Wadsworth; a son, Arthur, of Winthrop Harbor, and 11 grandchildren.

Escapes Hurricane

A narrow escape from the hurricane which swept the east coast was announced in letters from Mrs. Minnie Miller, Genoa City, who was visiting her mother and sister in New London, Conn. Mrs. Miller wrote to friends in Genoa City that trees blown down by the storm fell on the garage and sun parlor of the home in which she was staying.

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

J.B. ROTNOUR CO. WILL START ITS SEASON OCT. 13

"Fool's Gold" Is Listed for Opening Engagement of Road Show Here

J. B. Rotnour has announced Thursday evening, Oct. 13, for the opening of the J. B. Rotnour road show company's annual fall engagement at the Crystal theater.

The company will appear here under the co-operative auspices of Antioch merchants and business men, and it is only through their friendly attitude that the company has been able to appear at the price charged," Mr. Rotnour announces.

In other columns of this issue will be found a list of the business firms which will give the merchant's free tickets with every cash purchase.

"Fools' Gold," new and up to the minute in play writing, will be the opening play.

Joins Company

Mr. Rotnour announces that several new members of the company, together with some of the older ones, are to be seen in the production. Among the new members is Dorothy LaVerne, who had her own stock company in Madison for five years at the Orpheum theater. Miss Mary Wellman, leading lady; Miss Clair Bjorken, Jimmy LeRoy, Otto Kellar, James Lawler, Bob Gentry, Ronald McBurney, Al Unruh and others will also be seen on the evening's program.

Vaudeville specialties will be given between acts.

The doors of the theatre will open at 7:45 o'clock and the curtain will rise at 8:15.

Collection Shows Early Illinois and Wis. History

A small metal container more than 250 years old which was used to carry coals from one home to another in the days when fire was precious and matches were unknown is one of the many treasured articles identified with life in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois which have been collected by William Goelzer of Alden, Illinois.

The articles are stored in Mr. Goelzer's blacksmith shop, near Highway 173.

A shepherd's staff with a hand-wrought iron hook made 200 years ago and brought to this country from Germany; ox bows; hill-s-eye lanterns used by the police in days gone by; a flail; a cradle for cutting grain, and lamps and candlesticks of all sorts are among the hundreds of antiques dangling from rafters, stored in cupboards and standing on the floor of the shop.

A tattered book of Masonic rituals secured from a member of the Featherstone family, identified with the early history of Walworth county, Wis., is another interesting item.

Goelzer's father was a blacksmith at Sharon, Wis., and the interest the boy took in hand-wrought articles at that time led to the development of his hobby in later years.

BOND ISSUE FOR VILLAGE HALL IS CARRIED, 147-49

If Govt. Grant Is Given, Work on $31,000 Bldg. Will Start Soon

Antioch voted 147 to 49 in favor of the $13,500 bond issue for construction of a new village hall, in a special election Tuesday.

Only about half of the village's 400 or more qualified voters went to the polls to express their opinions pro or con, but those who did vote piled up a majority of more than 3 to 1.

Several weeks ago the village made application for a Public Works Administration grant of 45 per cent of the estimated cost of the new hall, which is about $31,000. There is at present a reserve of $3,500 in the village building fund which would make up the balance.

Will Accept Bonds

Both the First National Bank of Antioch and the State Bank of Antioch have indicated their willingness to accept the bonds if they are issued, Mayor George B. Bartlett has announced. This is a government requirement.

If all plans go through, work on the new hall would probably start within the next 60 days, the village council estimates.

Wilbur A. Mullin, architect, and George McGaughay, attorney for the village, are now placing the plans before Public Works Head Kennicot of the Chicago area. L. J. Latz is superintendent of construction for the proposed building and B. P. Thatcher is civil engineer.

Drawing on Display

An architect's drawing of how the hall would appear when finished is on display in the window of the Antioch News office.

Blue prints of the tentative plans have been drawn up and turned over to Mayor Bartlett. The new hall is to be located on the present site of the Antioch hotel.

Polls opened for the special election at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and closed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

J. C. James, William Gray and Carolyn Horan acted as election judges. Clerks were Myrtle Hufendick, Violet Dunn and Marion Rigby.

BUSINESS CLUB HEARS TALK ON "EDUCATION"

California System Subject of Talk Given by Miss Alice Smith

"Don't try to lay your child's life out for him!" was the warning brought by Miss Alice Smith of the Antioch Township High school as speaker at a dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Monday evening in the Antioch hotel.

Miss Smith's talk dealt with the California educational systems, which she observed while taking a summer course in one of the California schools this year.

Individual abilities of children and their individual limitations are

Swimming or Boating—Be Careful!

Lake county was fortunate this year in having only 15 drownings during the summer months. Only 15 persons lost their lives in accidents—some of them perhaps avoidable or preventable—on the lakes and rivers.

This is an unusually low number, and is cause for rejoicing. It would be greater cause for rejoicing if there were none.

The tragic part about drownings is that they can occur so easily through plain lack of care. Anyone who goes out on the water ought to remember drownings CAN happen—and to avoid taking risks. Sometimes through inexperience or bravado—or plain lack of attention—a person will take chances that someone wiser will avoid.

An illustration of the ease with which things can go wrong was a recent tragedy at the Wilmot dam in Kenosha county, where a Chicago woman lost her life.

"This was the second drowning in a month at the dam," the Wilmot correspondent of the Antioch News pointed out in an account of the happening. "Previously, one of three men swept over the dam in a motor boat that had been tied too near the dam was drowned there. The river has been in flood stage four times this summer, a condition the oldest settlers do not recall, and vacationists do not seem to realize the danger and power of the current sweeping over the dam—until it is too late."

You Can Help Fight Fire Loss

Next week Antioch will join with other communities throughout the nation in lending support to the annual fire prevention drive, Oct. 9-15.

This is one of the most worthy of all the "weeks" that have been given nation-wide significance. There are few communities that have not at some time or another met with fire loss or disaster.

This year, if past precedent holds, some 1,500 people will be cremated in burning buildings. Six thousand more will die as the results of burns and scalds.

When an airplane crashes and a dozen people burn to death, the news makes international headlines and the world is horrified. Yet the public at large is callous to the fact that our annual total of deaths from fires is greater than the toll would be from 6000 airplanes carrying to flaming doom 12 persons each.

Practically every one of those thousands of fire deaths could be easily prevented. Due to carelessness of adults, children are among the principal sufferers. Unprotected stoves, matches left about, steam and hot water—these are major causes of death and suffering among the very young. Death takes no holiday when those things which may cause fires and scalds are within reach of a child's untaught, exploring fingers.

Equally dangerous, particularly in the case of adults, is the practice of starting stoves and furnaces with kerosene, gasoline or other inflammable liquids. You may get away with it a thousand times. But the thousand and first time may mean a job for the undertaker—with you and possibly others as the objects of interest.

Next time you read of a spectacular disaster, reflect that something equally horrible can occur in your home. Think of this before you stir up a ballyhoo fire with kerosene. Think of it again when children are about.

Mrs. Exxon, Libertyville, Dies after Long Illness

Ill for some time, Mrs. John Exxon, 56, died at her home three and a half miles north of Libertyville on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 28, at 2 o'clock.

She was born in West Kewanee, Wis., Feb. 24, 1882, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trakel. In March, 1901, she was united in marriage with John Exxon, of Somersetshire, England, who survives her.

Also surviving her are two sons, Charles and Arthur J. Exxon and six daughters, Elsie Exxon, Mrs. Gus Christensen of Libertyville; Mrs. William Schmalbeck and Mrs. Esther Butenschon, both of Des Plaines; Mrs. Russell Benner of South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. Meto Calzavara of Chicago. Another daughter, Bessie, preceded her mother in death 10 years ago.

Brother of Lily Lake Man Dies at Hampshire

Word has been received of the death of Ferdinand Roesslein, Hampshire, Sept. 21 following an emergency operation. Funeral services were held Sept. 24, with burial in Hampshire Center cemetery.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roesslein, Cary; four brothers, Henry, of Lily Lake; Martin, of Crystal Lake; George, of Cary, and Albert, Chicago; seven sisters, Mrs. Dora Marnbacher, Mrs. Sophia Shoemaker, Barrington; Mrs. Mary Wartington, Hampshire; Mrs. Clara Frisch, Cary; Mrs. Anna Landin, Chicago; Mrs. Rose Schoemaker and Miss Margaret Roesslein, Chicago.

Four sons, Donald, Raymond, Gordon and Keith, all of Hampshire, also survive.

Land With 150,000 Islands

If you are asked in an intelligence quiz, which country has a coastline of 12,000 miles and along that coastline 150,000 islands, there is only one answer—Norway.

It is easy to prevent a fire—but it is impossible ever to make up for the consequences of a fire that takes a life.

Next week the Antioch fire department will be active in bringing fire prevention demonstrations and instruction to the schools and the people of the community in general, as their contribution to the village's observance of this week.

The Antioch News commends them for this praiseworthy work and gives its whole-hearted endorsement to Antioch's Fire Prevention program.

"Alien" Power

"Let us never forget," said President Roosevelt at Marietta, "that government is ourselves and not an alien power over us."

Mr. Roosevelt was stating what should be but what is not.

A government which outrages a minority for the sake of pleasing a majority is an alien power.

A government which destroys food, needed by the poor, for the supposed benefit of the producer is an alien power.

A government which repudiates its solemn and definite obligations, as in the gold currency, is an alien power.

A government which encourages and incites trade unions to keep men from work by violence is an alien power.

A government which obtains office on promises which it does not keep is an alien power.

A government which sets up a bureaucracy which suspends the right of free speech is an alien power.

All these things have been done by Mr. Roosevelt's Administration, and that is what he means by "government."

Yes, it is more than an alien power. It is what Dwight W. Morrow, in his speech against prohibition, called "an alien and a hostile power."

What's the Answer?

A congressional commission studying un-American activities and propaganda directed against our institutions should merit the full help of the Administration. But it does not get it.

The commission appointed to undertake this work has not been given the co-operation and assistance by other departments envisaged in the bill creating it. Its work has been brought practically to a standstill.

On the other hand, the similar group investigating civil liberties in this country and using most of its time and opportunity to criticize and condemn American industries and business, has more than 100 aids and investigators supplied by the Administration through WPA and the Department of Justice.

Why should an investigation of radicalism be hamstrung, while an attack on industry be supported? Or don't the American people want to hear the answer to this question?

In a Dictatorship

The meeting between Dictators Hitler and Mussolini in Rome stood for one thing—the meeting of the two outstanding representatives of Fascism, which they believe promises so much for the people.

A few lines of copy in the Rome Correspondents' reports of the meeting surely give the dictatorship system away in fine style. The correspondents reported that:

The lightning effects were so spectacular that it was necessary to raise Rome's supply of electrical energy for this one evening from 8,000 to 14,000 kilowatts."

It wouldn't be fair to compare Rome's electrical consumption with New York's with its 7,000,000 of population. But it is fair to make one comparison of electrical consumption in this country—a Democracy.

The Music Hall Theatre in Radio City in New York alone uses 12,000 kilowatts of electricity every day of the year. Yes, a Dictatorship certainly does "promise" the people a lot.

Fox River Grove Will Consider Park District

Voters of Fox River Grove will hold a special election to decide whether or not they want a park district on Saturday, Oct. 15. Boundaries of the district would coincide with corporate limits of the village. There are at the present time two park districts in McHenry county. Crystal Lake has had one for several years, and Marengo voters approved a district a few weeks ago.

Election Clerks, Judges For Nov. 8 Are Appointed

The appointment of 570 judges and clerks of election for the 95 precincts in Lake county, for the election to be held Nov. 8, has been confirmed by Judge Perry L. Persons. Citations have been ordered for all judges and clerks who will serve at an election for the first time to appear in county court at 2:30 p.m. or 7:30 p.m., Oct. 11, for instructions on the mechanics of managing polling places.

Falls from Butler Lake Dredge; Saved by Worker

A fellow worker on the Butler lake project west of Libertyville saved the life of Lester Guthrie, R. F. D. 2, Waukegan, Wednesday afternoon of last week when a falling boom knocked him unconscious and he fell from the dredge on which he was working into eight feet of water. A laborer near him jumped in and held him up until help arrived to pull him back on the dredge. Guthrie suffered a possible skull fracture.

Walter Raleigh Reminders

Sir Walter Raleigh, who introduced the potato into Ireland and tobacco into England, is believed never to have set foot on the mainland of North America; but visitors to Trinidad may see some of the dents his guns made on Port of Spain. He wiped out most of the early town because the people wouldn't give him water.

HICKORY

Little Everett Wells is slowly recovering at the St. Theresa hospital in Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendelen Fonk of Kenosha visited the Leo Carney family on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Ida Riley of Cleveland, Ohio, was with them.

Many from here attended the Hunt Club dinner and Hunt meet on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Gussarson and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Otto Olsen, Sr., at their home at Algonquin, last Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Carney spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coles in Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Thompson and Helen, also Caryl Tilton drove to Oak Park Saturday morning and spent the day with relatives. Mrs. J. Pickles who has been visiting there for over two weeks, returned home with them at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geyer of Chicago were dinner guests at the Nels Nielsen home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Karnopp and Miss Margaret Jensen from Chicago were supper guests at the Nels Nielsen home Sunday.

Goliath Not So Tall

Goliath, Og, king of Bashan, and other giants of Biblical times may not have been so tall after all. In fact they probably didn't exceed six feet in height but were thought huge because they towered over the shorter Jewish and Canaanite people by comparison, according to Sir Arthur Keith, foremost British anthropologist.

Heroin With 40,000 Monuments

Joan of Arc is the most celebrated heroine in the world if statues in her honor can prove it, for in France alone there are over 40,000 statues to the Maid of Orleans.

As next Sunday is Conference Sunday and the pastor will be at the services at the Chicago Temple, there will be no Sunday school or church services.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Slater of Grayslake visited Mrs. Slater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seeger, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitaker returned last week from a month's vacation spent with relatives in Massachusetts. They did not start home until after the severe storm in the East, but they suffered no harm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson, J. O. Hucker, Jr., our postmaster, and Charles Madson left here last Thursday on a two weeks' vacation to be spent hunting in North Dakota.

Mr. Clarence Blumenschein underwent an operation for appendicitis last week and is recovering nicely at his home here.

August Tanner celebrated his twentieth birthday on Sunday and a family party with relatives from Chicago as guests, was held in his honor. He received many nice gifts and we join Augie's many friends in wishing him many more happy birthdays.

Miss Bojan Hamlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamlin, started last Saturday for Bryn Mawr, Pa., where she will be a sophomore at the college there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamlin returned Saturday from yet another pleasant trip to state parks in Indiana and interesting places in Kentucky. Friends from Gary, Indiana, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kerr and family of Bloomington, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell and daughter of Chicago, spent Saturday and Sunday with the James Kerr and William Weber families.

The local P. T. A. held the first card party of the season at the schoolhouse last Friday evening to raise funds to carry on the dental work for the children.

Mr. Pedersen of Richmond, Virginia, and Mr. Mathis of Chicago, were guests of their sister, Mrs. J. A. Pedersen a few days last week.

Marty McManus, who has lived in Lake Villa for some time, has gone to Chicago and has a position there.

Mrs. Meyer has been visiting the families of her son and daughter, Harvey Meyer and Mrs. John Sonnenberg, during the past two weeks.

We are glad to report the improved condition of Billy Hucker who has been very ill at Victory Memorial Hospital. His mother, Mrs. Earl Hucker, is still with him.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barth and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hess of Chicago were guests of the McLaren family and Mrs. Rinney last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Berglund were Highland Park visitors last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feltz, Sr., of Chicago were guests of the William Peterson family from Friday until Sunday night.

John 4:19-24;
GOLDEN TEXT—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth—John 4:24.

"The First Commandment bids us to worship God exclusively; the Second bids us to worship Him spiritually. The First Commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the Second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar). Israel had lived among the Egyptians, people known for their worship of images, and was about to enter into Canaan where there were many false gods. The Lord was therefore careful not only to forbid the worship of other gods, but also to forbid the making of images of any kind, whether they represented the many gods of heathendom, or were attempts to symbolize the true God. In studying this lesson we need to exercise care lest we miss the point by talking only of the gods of wood and stone which the heathen worship, and fail to apply the truth to any improper use of images which may prevail in our land and in the present day. Let us lay aside any preconceived notions and face the facts in the light of God's Word.

I. True Worship Required (Exod. 20:4-6).

This commandment expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness to whom represents a being to be worshipped. It matters not whether it be an image of what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth—such as a man or animal; or under the water—such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants. Spiritual blight so often runs through whole families, while spiritual life just as often blesses those who follow us. Blessed is the man who gives his children and his children's children a true spiritual heritage, but woe be unto that man who passes on the darkness and spiritual death of unbelief to his children!

II. False Worship Established (Exod. 32:1-8).

It comes to us as a real shock that a people so highly privileged, so well-instructed and soably led as Israel should turn to idolatry. The story reveals the depravity of the human heart. Their excuse that Moses was gone was only an excuse without foundation. They did what their hearts wanted to do, and they used his absence to put forward their wicked desires.

Let us be careful lest we be misled or indeed, mislead ourselves into creating a God after the concept of our own heart and mind. We, like Israel, may be tempted to "make us gods" to which we will bow down and worship. It may not be out of place at this point to warn against a folly which seems to have laid hold of the church, that of almost deifying our Christian leaders. A man who is called to speak for God is a highly privileged man, worthy of our support and our respect. But let us remember that he is only a servant, an instrument in God's hand, and let us never be guilty of worshiping and serving "the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed forever" (Rom. 1:25).

III. True Worship Defined (John 4:19-24).

One would suppose that a truth so vital and fundamental as that stated in these verses would long since have completely saturated the life of the church as well as of the individual believer. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Even in this year of our Lord 1938, countless men and women still believe that worship has something to do with place (vv. 20, 21) or race (v. 22) or some other external device or formula. What a pity that this should be true when the gracious and delightful way to worship is through personal spiritual communion between God and man.

Deadening formalism is not our only enemy. There is the powerless preaching of modernism—and in all honesty must we not admit that even some so-called fundamentalism has in many respects lost the true spirit of the faith for which it rightly contends. We who cherish the truth of God's Word will shun modern liberalism. We may not be tempted to obscure the worship of God by formalism. But we may be in danger of a dead orthodoxy, being as someone said "orthodox about everything except I Corinthians 13"—or failing to worship God in spirit and in truth and not living out that spirit in loving service to our brethren.

FARM TOPICS

BALANCED DIET IS BETTER FOR COWS*Rations Cut Down, the Milk Production Falls Off.

By John A. Arey, Extension Dairy Specialist, North Carolina State College, WNCU Service.

The old family cow has taken a lot of abuse in her time and kept on producing milk for her master, but she can do a much better job when she gets enough of the right things to eat.

A good cow not only cuts down on the household food bill, but she contributes much to the health and general well-being of the family.

A cow has a huge stomach and a tremendous capacity for converting feed into milk. On full feed she will use about half the nutrients in her feed to maintain her own body-weight. The rest she converts into milk and butterfat.

When her rations are cut down, her milk production falls off, she loses weight, and she goes drier sooner than normal. A cow will often give milk when she really needs to use the full amount of a scant feed supply to supply her own body.

In the course of a year, an average-size farm cow needs 18 bushels of corn, 13 bushels of oats, 600 pounds of cottonseed meal, two tons of hay, and one to two acres of good pasture. The hay should be of good quality, and the pasture should be a good growth of grasses or legumes. Winter pastures of rye and crimson clover or of wheat, barley, oats, and crimson clover are good for supplementing the dry feed.

Three or more different feeds, say 500 pounds of corn meal, 300 pounds of cottonseed meal, and 200 pounds of ground oats or wheat bran will make a good grain ration. Give a cow all the roughage she will eat and allow three quarts of grain per day for each gallon of milk she gives.

Important Hints Given For Handling Pulletts

These are important steps in the successful management of the pulletts for a good laying and breeding flock this fall, according to a writer in Hoard's Dairymen:

Range the pullets and cockerels separately.

Move the pullets to the laying house soon after they start to lay. Provide a summer range shelter to take the place of the brooder house.

Get pullets out on clean range. Alfalfa or sudan pasture makes good range.

Hopper-feed both grain and a good commercial or home-mixed growing mash during the growing period.

An automatic waterer and self-feeder will reduce the labor in caring for pullets on range.

Provide the pullets with artificial shade if trees, shrubs, or a corn field are not near the brooding range.

Do not house more than 100 pullets in a 10 foot by 12 foot brooder house during the hot summer months.

Siberian Rye Grass

Siberian rye grass, a decent citizen in its homeland, went hog-wild when transplanted to the nursery at Pullman, Wash. Being unaccustomed to such luxury of soil and climate, it ran amuck like morning-glory, a single plant covering a 12-foot spread and extending its roots down 36 inches into the subsoil in one season. Now recognized as a menace to better farming land, it is penned up with galvanized steel sheets extending two feet below the surface. Later it will be transferred to the sandy, blow-sol areas of the state where under-nourishment and thirst will tame it down and put it to useful work.—The Country Home Magazine.

Comb, Wattle Disease

The disease affecting the comb and wattles of poultry is known as favus. It is due to the presence of a fungus organism, advises a poultryman in the Boston Globe. This parasite is transmitted from fowl to fowl by direct or indirect contact. Affected birds should be promptly isolated and treated by the application of a mixture of one part of tincture of iodine and six parts of glycerine. It should be applied two or three times a week. When the feathers and the skin and parts other than the wattles and comb are affected, it is advisable to destroy the bird rather than take a chance on its spreading disease.

Inflated Collar for Horse

Comfort for the horse is offered in an inflated collar which eliminates much of the scuffing of the animal's neck in pulling heavy loads. So elastic is the collar, says Popular Mechanics magazine, that the driver may slip his hand between the collar and the horse's shoulder without discomfort while a full load is being handled. The collar consists of a special rubber tube inflated into an ordinary collar and inflated with five pounds of air.

ANTIOCH and VicinityRaymond Gruidl Are Back From Southern Honeymoon Journey

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gruidl returned Tuesday from a honeymoon trip through the south and are now at home to their friends in the apartment at 1054 Main street, over the post office.

The Methodist parsonage in Waukegan was the scene of the quiet ceremony uniting the couple on Tuesday afternoon of last week.

The bride, who before her marriage was Miss Virginia Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Norman, wore a blue ensemble suit. White roses and white "mums" tied with a broad tulle ribbon formed her arm bouquet.

Attending her as matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Haling, who was in brown, with a shoulder corsage of yellow roses. Charles Haling acted as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Alice Gruidl, Chicago. The Rev. J. B. Martin officiated at the service.

The young couple left immediately afterward on their honeymoon, which included a trip to Mammoth Cave, Ky., Knoxville, Tenn., and other points of interest in the south.

Previous to the wedding the bride was honored at a number of parties here and in Chicago, including a family gathering at the home of her parents. Her sister, Mrs. Charles Thornton, Fond du Lac, was here for the latter event.

Mr. Gruidl, who is a chemist, is employed at the Pickard pottery factory. The former Miss Norman is a graduate or the Antioch High school and also was employed at the Pickard plant for a time.

Helen Docauer Becomes Bride at Libertyville

Miss Helen Docauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Docauer, Libertyville, became the bride of Harry Prestin, Waukegan, at a ceremony held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Libertyville Lutheran church. Miss Agnes Burback, Chicago, and Paul Duba, Libertyville, were the attendants. The Rev. William Lehmann officiated.

After a wedding dinner at the Wayside Inn in Libertyville, Mr. and Mrs. Prestin left on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Florida. They will make their home in Libertyville.

The bride is in the employ of the telephone company in Libertyville and Mr. Prestin is employed by the Public Service company in Waukegan. Both attended the Libertyville Township High school.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 2.

The Golden Text was, "Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity; for vanity shall be his recompence" (Job 15:31).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. All nations before him are as nothing; and they are accounted to him less than nothing, and vanity" (Isaiah 40:10, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "From beginning to end, whatever is mortal is composed of material human beliefs and of nothing else. That only is real which reflects God" (p. 478).

Several other Roman amphitheaters were as large as, or larger than the Coliseum.

The power of the eyes for adapting themselves to secure acute vision, notwithstanding their defects, is without doubt another reason to explain the large proportion of people who have neglected their eyes. If the eyes were assertive organs like the teeth, it is probable that there would be far less eye trouble. When anything happens to our teeth we are not left long in doubt and we hurry immediately to the dentist. The eyes, unlike the teeth, do not always directly protest but struggle to perform the task set for them. However, every minute that defective eyes are open they are working under a tremendous strain and drawing on the reserve energy of the body. The result is a reduction in our physical resources, accompanied often by headaches, insomnia, and other nervous ills.

Body of Drowning Victim Recovered

The body of Mrs. Lucille Andersen, 30, Chicago, who was drowned at the Wilmot dam on Sunday, Sept. 25, was recovered late last Thursday afternoon, about two miles south of the search operations.

Mrs. Caroline Vosa and Mrs. E. Stenersen, of Chicago, had been fishing on the Fox river a short distance this side of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line, when the hook on the line held by Mrs. Stenersen snagged on the dress of the drowning victim.

The two women towed the body to Joyce's landing, which was nearby, and summoned Russell Ehler, who was working in a corn field across the river, to assist them. Ehler notified searchers at the dam, and the body was removed to the Kenosha county morgue. F. W. Adams, law firm partner of the dead woman's husband, who was rescued in the same boating accident that cost Mrs. Andersen's life, assumed charge of the return to Chicago, where the body was taken to the Sparrow Funeral home.

The Kenosha coast guard had dragged the basin of the dam for several days in the endeavor to locate Mrs. Andersen's body, and dynamite blasts had been set off by a Scout Leaders' Red Cross First Aid corps from Kenosha Thursday afternoon in an effort to bring the body to the surface.

Barwell, Co-Founder of Blatchford Co., Dies

John W. Barwell, who with E. W. Blatchford founded the well known calf meal company in 1884, died Monday evening at 9 o'clock at his home in Waukegan. He was 84 years of age. Mr. Barwell was noted as a philanthropist as well as an industrialist.

He was born in Leicester, England, Nov. 2, 1854, and was graduated from Oxford college in 1873. He became associated with his father in the manufacture of cattle feeds, a business which had been founded by his family in 1800.

In 1878 this business took him to the United States. He located in Chicago, became a citizen of this country, and for several years worked on the Chicago Board of Trade.

He was united in marriage with Hattie Porter of Waukegan, and in 1899 when the Blatchford company was seeking a larger site than their Chicago plant the Barwells moved to Waukegan to establish the plant there. Mrs. Barwell died in 1915 and the Barwell gymnasium is a memorial to her.

Services for Mr. Barwell were held Wednesday afternoon in Waukegan, with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Antioch Poultry Judges Rate High at State Meet

Members of the Antioch 4-H poultry judging team who competed at the state contest at Urbana, Ill., last Saturday as representatives of Lake county won a "B" rating in the judging of exhibition, production and market classes of poultry. Each member of the team also received an individual second place red ribbon.

The team members, Norman Edwards, Lawrence Keisler and Richard Prince, were accompanied by Donald Minto, assistant 4-H club leader.

After the judging contest the team was privileged to attend the Illinois De Paul football game at the Memorial stadium.

"Family Night" Planned by Future Farmers for Oct. 14

The Antioch chapter of Future Farmers of America will sponsor a "Family Night" program the evening of Oct. 14, at the Antioch High school.

The membership, one of the largest in the history of the high school, is planning an entire evening of entertainment for the families from which the members come.

There will be a pot luck supper, to be followed with a short program of talks and motion pictures. Dancing and five hundred will be enjoyed afterward.

Festival Visitors Must Leave Lights on Autos

"Leave your parking lights on!" Sgt. Laurence Kelly, head of the Waukegan police's accident prevention bureau, warns visitors to the Lake County Fall festival who park their cars on Belvidere street and on Sheridan road south of Water street. Persons who ignore this warning will be subject to arrest, he states, explaining that heavy traffic on both streets makes it advisable that cars be lighted in order to cut down the danger of accidents.

Medical Society Will Sponsor Talks Oct. 11

Dr. Isaac Abt, a past president of the Chicago Medical society, will speak at Condell Memorial hospital in Libertyville next Tuesday evening, Oct. 11. The talk is one of a series being sponsored by the Lake County Medical association. Dr. Abt's subject will be "The Premature Infant." Dr. Frederick H. Falls, of the University of Illinois College of Medicine, will also speak.

Spain's Most Famous Shrine

Montserrat, Spain, is the name of a fantastic mountain pass that rises abruptly to a height of 3,000 feet from the rolling foothills of Catalonia. It is also the name of a famous monastery, which clings like a swallow's nest half way up the steep slopes of the mountain, about 35 miles northwest of Barcelona. For centuries this medieval Benedictine monastery has been the nation's most famous shrine, to which thousands of the Spanish faithful make pilgrimage each year to pay homage to what is called the Black Virgin. This wooden image, darkened by age, is not, however, the only source of Montserrat's fame. Montserrat, in Catalan tradition, is the Montsalvat or Monsalvat of the Middle ages, site of the castle of the Holy Grail. Here Ignatius of Loyola, a wounded soldier, knelt in prayer, and went away to found the Society of Jesus.

Dirndl Is Leader Among Juveniles

The dirndl may be dwindling in popularity with the grown-up fashion leaders but it continues to hold first place in juvenile styles for the coming season. Many coats as well as dresses designed for little girls from three to six years old show the peasant influence.

One coat that is typical of the trend is made of royal blue velvet and has a fitted basque top to which is attached a very full shirred skirt section. A little collar of gray squirrel fastens snugly at the throat. Another coat similarly styled is made of wine red wool velour and has cordings of the fabric trimming the dirndl skirt.

Leather Hats Are New Fall Fashion

Leather hats have come to town as spice for the fashion menu.

Lily Dache makes them of kid and suede in such colors as elephant gray, rural autumn (a rich maple leaf red) dawn blue (green blue) and beet root (a deep dark red) as well as the regulation shades trimmed with bright colors. She sends them out with gloves of the same color to wear now with dark frocks and later with fall suits.

New Fall Color

"Tabac" brown, more mellow in its tone than most browns, is off to a good start in the early collections. Maggy Rouf combines it with maroon and deep sage green to make a "mosaic" winter coat formed by pieced-together squares of the three colors.

'Thou Shall Not Kill'

The first of the five commandments of Buddhism, whose adherents constitute about one-fifth of the population of the entire world, is "Thou shall not kill any living creature." Moreover, says Collier's Weekly, Buddhism has been free from religious warfare, with one exception, since it was founded about 2,300 years ago.

Velveteen Plays Important Part*Favored by Designers Of Youthful Apparel

Velveteen this season ranks among fabrics of foremost importance. It is especially favored by designers who specialize in youthful apparel. Shirtmaker dresses of gay velveteen are finding their way into many a back-to-school wardrobe. Then, too, many of the new plaid costumes go fifty-fifty velveteen with gay wool and rayon weaves. A favorite gesture is to top a pleated plaid skirt with a velveteen jacket or blouse.

The latest "fad" among the younger folks is the lumber-jacket of velveteen worn with plaid skirt. Another popular theme is slacks fashioned of velveteen.

The fact that velveteen comes in beautiful colors adds greatly to its lure. Then it has a "never wear out" quality that makes it practical for campus and class room. The jewel toned velveteens stress rich ruby reds and emerald greens and warm browns. The outstanding color is the much-talked-of teal blue, which is a deep blue with green cast as seen in wings of a duck. This teal blue combines effectively with the purples and violet shades which Paris so loudly proclaims and it is stunning with the dusky browns.

A color that is making big appeal in the new showings is the dregs of wine that appears in not only velveteens but in all materials and is especially featured in hats, veils and accessories in general.

Lumber Jacket

Here is a gay frock for a gay evening. The clannish plaid is a spun rayon fabric and it demonstrates the modishness of plaid for evening wear. Never such a "plaid season" as this. There is not a nook or crook in all fashions that has escaped the present plain invasion, which, needless to say, is adding a note of tremendous interest to new fashions. However as intriguing as the dress here pictured is, even more so is the black velvet lumber-jacket evening wrap which milady holds in her hand. The lumber jacket is one of the newest evening frivolities recording this season.

Paris Flashes

Many three-cornered hats are shown.

High feather trims are lavished on the new hats.

The dramatized color is purple in its every phase.

Sleeves ornate with glittering embroidery are featured.

The trend is toward crisp hand-some "stand alone" fabrics.

Return of pompadour hair styles of 1900 period is noted.

Tuck-in velvet scarfs add color note to suits and to fur coats.

Tiny waistlines and bodies with full skirts is evening formula.

Opulent furs give air of elegance to fall and winter costumes.

Add Gray Veil to Give Autumn Note

If you want to add an autumn note to your between-season dark costume throw a gray veil over your hat. This shade of accessory is a popular one to start the fall season and since it looks cool is being introduced for earlier wear than many wintry accent tones.

Leopard Buttons

Leopard is used in the three dollar-size leopard buttons which form the only tripping for Maggy Rouf's deep burgundy wool dress. The buttons fasten a crossed-over neck diagonally at one side of the front.

Dog Obeyed Orders Given Over Phone

REGINA, SASK.—Dinty Moore, Saskatchewan's most unusual dog, is dead. He took orders and obeyed them—over a telephone.

His owner left his car and the dog at a garage one day. The dog refused to let the mechanic into the car. Then he thought of phoning the owner. He asked the owner to speak to the dog over the phone. The phone line was extended and pulled out to the car and the owner shouted, "Come home" into the dog's ear.

The dog was off like a shot and on his way home.

Bellflower Has Several Names

The tall bellflower, related to the bluebell of Scotland, has several other names, including Canterbury bells and bluebell. It is widely distributed, being found as far north as Ontario and south to Florida. Related species, such as the bluebell of Scotland, are found in Europe. Plants of the bluebell family are unimportant for medicinal uses or other commercial purposes, although they did find some uses for them in the old days. Alfred Lord Tennyson once wrote that bluebell juice (from the stems and roots) was a good remedy for snake bites, a remedy that the modern doctor hardly would use. The juice from the roots also has been used as a substitute for starch, and in the days when stiff ruffs were worn bluebell juice was in much demand for starching purposes. Since the juice is somewhat resinous it was used as bookbinders' gum in the early days. For the same reason it was considered excellent for attaching feathers to arrows that English archers shot with their long bows.

DOG JOINS OWNER FISHING FOR RATS*Pet Makes Kill After Prey Is Safely Hooked.

CHARLESTOWN, W. VA.—A. L. Nidy uses a fishing pole, line and hook to keep down the rat population around his house. And don't forget Pooch, his white dog of an "ordinary" breed.

This modern Pied Piper looked to his fishing outfit when he learned that ordinary rat traps were ineffective against the wary invaders.

So Nidy and Pooch went "ratfishin'."

The method, as demonstrated by the man and dog, is simple. Nidy has a fishing pole to which is attached a stout cord with a triad hook on the end. He uses a small chunk of meat for bait and dangles the baited hook near a rat hole.

Before long there is a bite. After he feels certain the victim is solidly "hooked" Nidy pulls in the line and jerks the rat out of the hole. Then Pooch goes into action. He grips the rat firmly and enthusiastically about the neck with his teeth, shakes the prey violently and that's that.

"You see, it's just the same as going fishing, and besides it's a lot more fun," declared Nidy in his home in West Charleston. "I sic Pooch on the rat and let him do the killing."

Nidy's fishing methods of rat catching have spread around the neighborhood, he said. Several of the neighbors' boys have adopted the diversion as a new sport that meets parental approval.

New Hats Tune to
High Hairdress
Fall Millinery Styles to Be Different

There is not a dull moment in the millinery sections this season. The tremendous innovations made in the launching of "doll hats" have kept up an excitement and the adjusting of the new hats to the new high hair, or vice versa presents a challenge difficult to meet. In reality the new tiny hats are not as extreme as they seem. At least they are far more flattering than at first was thought possible.

All the way through hat fashions are different from the old order of styles. If a chapeau is not of the tiny type then it expresses its individuality, very likely in a crown that goes to a "new high." Often when a crown goes as high as it can it takes on new height in that it is trimmed with tall feathers.

Among conservative styles the triangle is attracting considerable attention. Very smart are these three-cornered types in black felt as an autumn "fashion first."

Summing up the situation the new millinery is far the most intriguing seen for years and the versatility expressed gives assurance of a becoming hat for each and every individual type.

Muchly Bloused

The blouse that really blouses is big news for fall. The very full blouse is extremely becoming to some figures as it makes small hips look smaller. The model at the top is in blue shantung printed with a small figure in bordeaux red. It is worn with a bordeaux felt hat and a teal blue skirt. The very much bloused effect that makes the waist look ever so small is shown below in the picture. It is done in aquamarine foulard with a tiny dot and is worn over a skirt of dull purple crepe. The color combinations here mentioned may seem unusual but they are typical of the new color trends stressed throughout the newer fashions.

Style Notes

There is a big revival of earings. Jackets and coats are often bloused at the back. Many black wool dresses have yokes and insets of lace. It will be a season of intriguing furs and fur trimmings. Higher necklines, long sleeves distinguish new fashions. Gold jewelry, gold embroidery trims many black gowns. The new topcoats of handsome plaid wools are stunning. New high hair brings little combs and barettes into use. Slim waists demanded by fashion require careful corseting.

Red Ants Sprint
On Black Bolero

Schiaparelli has turned pagan in a striking way by making her mid-season showing a magnificent collection of "earthy" things.

Red ants run down the front of black shantung boleros. Big brown and blue owls stare out from the buttonholes on wool jackets. Nymphs and naiads are printed on evening gowns. Strawberries turn into buttons or sprout from the peak of a green straw hat. Wheat stalks replace flowers. Gleaming green grasshoppers perch on gold-leaved bracelets. And red acorns sprout on silver lame.

Washable Velvets
For Fall Fabrics

Plaid brocades, washable velvets and waterproof tweeds are among the fall fantasies which will go into the making of madame's winter wardrobe, also cherrie-embroidered tulle, printed cotton velvets and rainproof duvetine.

Material experts have really given in the world everything they could think of in the way of novelty loom-work and dyeing.

Fashion Embarks on Wild Color Career in Fall Garb

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

FASHION is about to go on a great color spree. For that matter the new clothes have already started out on a mad color career that promises to outcolor even the most colorful seen for many a year.

Not that this color orgy writes finis to the simple black foundation dress that provides such dramatic setting for stunning costume jewelry and for accessories that splash color accents in vivid highlights. No indeed! The black dress with dashes of color is holding its own.

The intriguing thing about the colors exploited this season is that they are distinctively out of the ordinary.

The colors heard most about and seen dramatized throughout Paris collections are the purples and plums, the mauves and violets and fuchsia shades. In fact the entire gamut of violine shades is run. Comes next in the limelight the much talked of teal blue and fog blue and that rapturous blue made famous in the ever-beloved Blue Boy portrait painting. In fact, we are to enjoy a season of "blues" that are subtle and lovely beyond description.

The suit of refined elegance which you see pictured to the right in the picture is made of an imported wool in an exquisite scarab blue tone. It is trimmed with sheared beaver, a fur which is very much in use this fall. Self bows tie at the collar and belt which is significant for much emphasis is given to tie-fastenings throughout current costume design. Two wide bands of shirred, matching silk are set into the top part of the dress underneath.

Wine dregs is a shade that is making special appeal with American women. There are also a number of fascinating greens in the present fashion spectrum, notably bronze, hunter, laurel and tapestry greens. Autumn rust and coppery tones are also going big.

Coats are yielding to color to a surprising degree. Leading stores are devoting entire window displays to coats in purples and deep plum or wine-dreg tones. These are superbly colorful and with opulent furs present about the handsomest array of coats are seen.

As to the gorgeous plaid or striped wool coats so outstanding in the new fashion picture, the only way to resist them is to close your eyes and flee their color glory. Better still, why not make up your mind to indulge in a richly colorful plaid or striped (fashion favors both) wool coat at the very start. The striped coat centered in the group above reflects rich autumnal colors that take on an added note of luxury in a trim of luxuriant fur.

The swank jacket suit pictured to the left abounds in color intrigue. The color formula adopted is blue spruce and dark brown. The dress, the trimming on the coat and the hat are of lightweight woolen in the subtle blue spruce. The short swagger coat is brown in a new deep pile wool that looks velvety and soft. The velvety wool weaves are among the smartest shown this season and fashion is placing considerable emphasis on them.

© Western Newspaper Union.

Drape Technique

Much of costume design in the new fall fashions is based on a draped technique that is designed to slenderize the figure. Below in the picture is an example of adept draping in slate blue silk jersey which sort of intertwines the material in a manner much approved by designers. Illustrated at the top is an unusual draping of royal blue acetate jersey against the black sheer of a sheathlike frock done in the latest bi-color manner. In every dress collection the bi-color theme is widely exploited. The ostrich trimmed tricorn and the doeskin gloves are royal blue.

Fur Jacket Adds Chic to Costume

For ultra chic on an autumn day the smartest formula calls for a dress of an alluring wool weave topped with a youthful and jaunty fur jacket. No-end versatility is expressed in these voguish fur-jacket costumes.

A likable model includes a conservative black dress of handsome dull-finished velvety surfaced deep pile wool. With this milady wears a swank short skunk jacket. There is a huge gold jewelry piece at the throat and the belt of the dress is detailed in gold.

A gray tweed coat dress is topped with a gray kidskin lumber jacket. A bolero of sheared beaver surmounts a dress of brown cloque weave and so on.

Even Trimmings Turn to Jewels

The flair for jewelry display is reflected in the new jeweled trimmings that are worked about the necklines of many of the newest daytime dresses. The latest models are arriving, bedecked with necklace effects that are jewel-appliqued right on the very fabric itself. So realistically is this done to all appearance it seems like an actual necklace or perhaps a huge pendant suspended from a chain.

The idea is clever and presents new opportunity for ingenious design. Not only jewels but metal cabochons and locket effects and leaf motifs combine to add a decorative note.

Femininity Note

The feminine lingerie effect is not limited to blouses and vestees but frequently characterizes the whole dress.

Trends for Fall

Day dresses for fall show a tendency to wider flared skirts with accentuated hip lines.

Drops $29 in Change
And Gets It All Back

CHICAGO.—There was plenty of excitement when a man dropped $29 in nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars in the crowded lobby of a Loop bank. Scores of persons picked up the coins as they rolled to all corners of the lobby. The picker-uppers were honest. A counting machine showed return of the full $29.

AUTOIST TOURING
U. S. IN 1904 CAR

Claims Doing by Land What Corrigan Did by Air.

CARSON CITY, NEV.—When it comes to "crates," George C. Green of Lamberville, N. J., insists that he is doing by land what Douglas C. Corrigan did by air, when the latter flew his "crate" from New York to Dublin.

Green arrived here in a single cylinder, curved dash Oldsmobile, 1904 model which he bought for $165 in 1907 when it was three years old. He is touring the United States to Dublin.

The car is 34 years old and Green has had it in his possession since he was 21. He is now 52.

Green, who is the proprietor of a small machine shop at Lamberville, gave his "crate" a complete overhauling early this year, and together with his wife started out to see America.

The first leg of their journey took them to Niagara Falls. Then they crossed to Canada and returned to the United States at Detroit. They have since kept on going until they reached here and departed for the Pacific coast. Altogether they hope to cover 7,000 miles.

Green does not know how far he has driven the car in the 31 years he has owned it, but thinks from 1,000 to 2,000 miles annually. It has a speed of 30 miles and runs 28 on a gallon of gasoline. He can only carry five gallons, so stops are frequent. The wheels are fitted with motorcycle tires.

The reactions of people who pass him on the road—he never succeeds in passing them—are different, he said.

Pursued by Wild Buffalo,

Coolie Leaps to Safety

SINGAPORE.—A Malay coolie, pursued by a wild buffalo, leaped over a 20-foot cliff in British Malaya and was not injured. The buffalo, leaping after him, was killed. The story is told in the annual report of the government survey department of British Malaya.

The coolie was carrying a box containing a heavy theodolite when he was pursued across the rice fields by the buffalo. The coolie placed the box carefully on the ground and ran, with the buffalo gradually gaining. It was within a few feet when suddenly the path along which both were running stopped abruptly with a 20-foot drop to the ground below. There was no question of stopping. Over went the coolie, followed by the buffalo. The coolie fell on his head and was stunned, and when he came to there was the buffalo lying dead beside him.

'Baby Loans' Received by

30,502 Couples in Italy

ROME.—In 10 months since the inauguration of "baby loans," designed to increase the birth rate, the Fascist government has advanced more than $2,600,000 to 30,502 married couples who want children but can't afford them. The effect of these loans on the birth rate cannot be determined yet because the first loans were only granted in August of last year. But Fascist officials are confident the natality chart will register a sharp upward rise.

The loans, varying from $52 to $155, are restricted to couples under 26 years of age who are not earning more than $630 annually. The loans are repayable over a number of years, with the stipulation that the payments would be reduced with the birth of each child.

Farmers Enjoy Music;

Pianos in Many Homes

WASHINGTON.—That music has a large place in the American farm home was shown in a survey by the department of agriculture.

The survey disclosed 16,774 interviewed farm families owned approximately 25,000 radios, pianos and phonographs. More than half of that number were radios.

The percentage of farm ownership of radios ranged from a low of one-half of 1 per cent among Georgia and Mississippi Negro sharecroppers to 94 per cent among West Coast farmers.

Barnyard Surgery Saves

Turkey With Torn Breast

REGINA, SASK.—Thanks to successful barnyard surgery, a turkey is strutting with a chicken breast on the farm of Mrs. R. G. O'Hara.

A coyote torn a section of the breast from the gobbler. Anxious to preserve the turkey, Mrs. O'Hara sacrificed a hen. Killing the hen, she sliced off a portion of its breast and with sterilized needle and thread, performed some rough surgery on the turkey. It recovered.

Salt-Glaze Stoneware in Use in Twelfth Century

The invention of salt-glaze stoneware is a very early one. Some authorities claim it was produced in Germany in the Twelfth century. At one time it was produced in great quantities at Co'ogne and other cities on the Rhine, Cologne being the great market center, it was commonly known as Cologne ware.

Salt glaze was introduced into England during the Sixteenth century, probably by some itinerant workman from western Germany or Flanders, as it did not require a great deal of skill if the proper kilns were set up. John Dwight of Fulham, however, is generally credited with being the first to produce the ware in that country, having taken out a patent in 1671. Said patent sets forth that "he had discovered the Musterie of the stoneware vulgarly called Cologne ware."

Dwight died in 1703, and the "mystery" of the finer stonewares was buried with him, writes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times.

Whether or not he was the first to produce salt glaze in England, there is no question of the originality and high quality of his products.

The process of salt-glaze white ware is described by J. F. Blacker, in his book on English salt glaze, as follows: "The salt glaze is formed by the action of salt thrown into the kiln, when the temperature is judged to be the highest, just before firing ends." A distinguishing feature of the ware is the well-marked, tiny pinholes or depressions which cover the surface. The glaze is thin and so entirely a part of the ware that it reveals the coloring and the mold marks distinctly.

Aardvark Sacred Animal

One of the most remarkable animals that the Boers found when they first settled in South Africa was an animal they called "aardvark," or ground-hog, according to Nature Magazine. This is a harmless creature about the size of a large pig, with an elongated snout, large ears and thick skin. Its huge claws enable it to dig up the insects upon which it lives, especially white ants, and, also, to dig burrows and holes where it hides. Formerly it was held to be closely related to pangolins and sloths, but it is known that it is an offshoot of an early type of the ungulates, or hooved animals. It is not surprising that so grotesque an animal should arouse awe and superstition among primitive peoples. In fact, the ancient Egyptians assigned to it a place among their deities. It was the animal sacred to Set, the God of Evil, and was considered to be his personification.

River Has Reversing Falls

The St. John River in Canada is noted for its reversing falls. When the tide is out, the falls flow toward the sea. At half tide or slack water, they are open to navigation both ways. At high water or full tide, the current flows inward.

St. Helena Discovery of A Portuguese Navigator

St. Helena was discovered by the Portuguese navigator Joao de Nova on a voyage home from India. He sighted it on the feast day of St. Helena, mother of the Roman Emperor Constantine, and named it for her. That was in May, 1502. The Portuguese made no effort at colonization. Yet there was one involuntary Portuguese colonist, a sort of Robinson Crusoe, relates Frederick J. Haskin in the Washington Star.

A Portuguese soldier, Fernando Lopez, deserted at Goa, renounced Christianity and joined the Paynim. He was surrendered to the Portuguese by the Indians on condition that he be spared. Albuquerque did spare his life, but he did not

YEAR'S PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED BY WOMAN'S GROUP

Mari Floto, Dress Designer, Speaks at Woman's Club Opening Meeting

A personality and appearance that charmingly illustrated her subject made Mari Floto's talk on "Personality in Dress" an added pleasure for the Woman's club at its first meeting of the year, a one o'clock luncheon Monday in Mrs. Pacini's tea room. Forty-four members were present.

"The correct type of costume for the correct occasion" was stressed by Miss Floto, who is a dress designer. Miss Floto gave suggestions on ways to combine costumes, and on suitable color combinations in costumes and accessories.

The next meeting of the club will be on Oct. 17, when a talk on "Books: the Arches and Buttresses of our Living" is to be given by Ruth Connor. The club's first regular business meeting will be held at this time. Hostesses are to be Mmes. William Cooper, H. J. Vos, W. W. Warriner, George Bacon and W. R. Williams. The meeting will be at Mrs. Cooper's home.

An interesting program for the 1938-39 has been laid out by the club. The roster of coming meetings as announced in the yearbooks which were distributed to club members at the luncheon includes the following:
